++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Clear spells and isolated coastal showers. Cold, with frost.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any showers soon easing during the evening, then largely dry and cold overnight, with clear spells. Cloudier across eastern areas, however, with isolated showers along the Lincolnshire coast. A frost is also expected, especially inland, along with icy patches. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Saturday:
A frosty start, then a cold, largely dry and sunny morning, although further coastal showers possible. Increasing risk of showers developing elsewhere through the afternoon, turning wintry across the hills. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Staying cold, with a mixture of rain, sleet and snow throughout the period, and brisk northeasterly winds. Snow mainly confined to hills, but not exclusively. Frost and ice risk throughout.
